GREEN'S GOLD.

Digging for Buried Treasures at Nashville.

Special to the Star.

NASHVILLE, TENN., Oct. 31.—A party of men are engaged in digging up the yard of Mr. N. D. Malone, on Russell street, this city, in anticipation of turning up a tin box containing $3,000 in gold coin. About twelve years since the box and money looked for were stolen from the residence of Lawrence Flynn in Edgefield.

Shortly afterward, Alonzo Green, a hard case in that suburb, was sent to the Penitentiary for rape. He was afterwards pardoned, and subsequently sentenced to the Missouri Penitentiary for a like offense. Recently he requested an interview with some of Flynn's relatives, who went on to Jefferson City, and learned from Green that he had buried the box, money and all, in Malone's yard, some six feet deep, where he was digging a well. The party are confident of success.

An Unsuccessful Strike.

National Associated Press to the Star.
BLOOMINGTON, ILL., Oct. 31.—The strike of the miners has proved disastrous to them, nearly all being compelled to leave the city. The company has employed English and Swedish miners, who have just arrived. A new shaft is to be sunk.

GIDEON'S GOOSE.

A Slumbering Somnambulist Takes a Walk.

Special to the Star.

DODGE CITY, KANS., Oct. 31.—During a saloon fight at Las Animas, Col., early yesterday morning some one struck Henry Gideon (colored) with a chair. Gideon rushed out, got his navy, and returning, opened fire on the party in the saloon. One shot struck a spectator named Roberts in the left shoulder, the ball ranging inward and backward. Louis Kreeger, the night police, coming, fired two shots, one striking the negro in the head and glancing upward, the other passing through or near the heart. He ran a few steps and fell dead. The Coroner justifies Kreeger.

SONNAMBULIST'S LAST WALK.

DEVON, COLO., Oct. 31.—James Todd, a Scotchman, owner of several valuable mines near Alma, was found dead on the sidewalk in front of his lodging-house at Leadville. His room was on the second floor, and it is supposed that while asleep he arose and, walking out of a door opening on the street, fell and was dashed to death.

MURDERED ON THE HIGHWAY.

National Associated Press to the Star.

IRON MOUNTAIN, MO., Oct. 31.—The body of an unknown man, with skull smashed in, was found three miles east of here. When last seen, this man, in company with another named Charles H. Hardin, and two women and two teams, were at the toll-gate near by, and the supposition is that the murder was committed by Hardin for the purpose of plunder. Letters addressed to R. B. Ferguson, dated Platteville, Ill., and Rockwell, Kansas, were found on the person of the murdered man. Hardin has since been arrested.

MURDEROUS MARINES SENTENCED.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Oct. 31.—Four accomplices of Isaac Jacobson, who was sentenced yesterday to be hanged January 30th, 1880, for the murder of Charles D. D. Brooks, mate of the ship Sea King, in August last, were sentenced as follows: Carl J. Granfors, John Clark, ten years imprisonment; and a fine of $500; Henry C. Myberg, fined $500 and eight years imprisonment; and Peter Rasmussen six years imprisonment and a fine of $500.

POISONED BY WAX FLOWERS.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Oct. 31.—Mrs. Bender, of Hoboken, whose funeral services were performed Wednesday, was the victim of a disease contracted by the use of poisons in making wax flowers. Some beautiful specimens of her work were exhibited at the recent Bergen County Fair.

ANOTHER VICTIM OF THE EXPLOSION.

Miss Snick, daughter of Engineer Snick, who was killed in the explosion, told the Coroner she was to have been married to Hugh in the coming holidays.

SUICIDE OF TOM HYER'S OLD PARTNER.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Oct. 31.—Mortimer Tunison, proprietor of the Road House, on the old Coney Island R-r, and Tom Hyer's old partner, committed suicide yesterday with a razor. The cause is thought to be the recent death of his favorite daughter from consumption. Tunison's house was a great resort for riding parties from New York and Brooklyn. He was worth $125,000. His surviving family consists of a wife and two daughters.

A PRINTER'S FATAL RACKET.

JERSEY CITY, OCT. 31.—At Clifton last evening Wm. Duquette, compositor and pressman, asked the station agent for the loss of $1 and a ticket to New York, saying that unless the favor was granted he would go into the cut and have a racket all to himself. The station agent could not respond. Shortly afterwards a freight train approached, and Duquette placed himself in front of it, not moving even when the engineer gave the danger signal. In another minute he was shockingly mangled and a corpse. Duquette was formerly very industrious, but for the last few years was addicted to drink.

FIRE AT A CAMP GROUND.

BELFAST, ME., Oct. 31.—A fire occurred yesterday afternoon at the north part of the Methodist Camp-meeting Grounds, near this city, which destroyed about twenty cottages. Loss not yet estimated.

GRANT GREETINGS.

The Wave of Enthusiasm Continues to Roll.

But the Salt Lake Saints Are Madder Than Hornets.

National Associated Press to the Star.

CHEYENNE, WY., Oct. 31.—The Grant party arrives here at noon and remains two hours, during which time the people of Wyoming and a large delegation from Colorado will tender the distinguished General an informal reception. The Governor of Colorado, Mayor of Denver and many distinguished citizens of that place are already here.

HE SLIGHTS THE SAINTS.

SALT LAKE, OCT. 31.—Grant gave this city the go-by. Upon his arrival from San Francisco committees were formed and arrangements made for receiving him on the hurrah principle, but he never even answered the committees' invitation to visit the city. The people naturally feel sore over the slight. However, about one hundred and fifty persons, including the Governor, two or three Federal officials, and three or four Methodist ministers went to Ogden by special train. The crowd was chiefly made up of loafers and hoodlums, and Grant treated them coolly.

Gov. Emery made a short speech, to which the General briefly replied. He said he hurt his back a few hours before, and was in great pain, he therefore wished to be alone. The crowd rushed on him, and for the twenty minutes that the train was at the depot put him through the handshaking ordeal. The whole affair was a sickly arrangement.

INTENSE ENTHUSIASM IN IOWA.

BURLINGTON, I.A., Oct. 31.—U. S. Grant, Jr., telegraphs Mayor Adams that his father will arrive here Monday evening, and remain the guest of Burlington during Tuesday. Preparations are made for a brilliant reception.

DUBUQUE, IOWA, Oct. 31.—The Veteran Corps, of this city, will attend the Grant reception at Galena next week.

BIG PREPARATIONS AT OMAHA.

OMAHA, NEB., Oct. 31.—A large delegation, with a Special Reception Committee and escort of the Grand Army, have gone to Cheyenne to meet Grant. The party will be met to-morrow by a General Reception Committee at Summit, a mile west of Omaha.

A salute will be fired by an artillery detachment from Fort Omaha as a signal, and the steam whistles of the manufacturing establishments in the city, and the engines in the yard will be sounded, and various bells, including the fire bells, will be rung until train arrives at the depot.

Alighting from the cars, General Grant will enter a carriage and join the procession, which will at once take up the line of march for Capitol Hill. The procession will include numerous military and civic companies and displays by the business men. After various reception exercises lunch will probably be tendered the guests. Gen. Crook having signified a desire to entertain Gen. Grant at the barracks. He will be escorted to Fort Omaha and turned over to the military until Monday morning, when a committee will visit the Fort and conduct him to the depot.

BROWN'S BOUNCE.

A Canadian Monster Dies Without a Kick.

National Associated Press to the Star.

CORNWALL, ONT., Oct. 31.—Clark Brown, who in September last murdered his father and sister at West Winchester, was executed at 8 o'clock this morning.

He walked to the scaffold with firm steps and showed no signs of weakness. The drop fell at 8:02 and at 8:10 life was pronounced extinct. The body remained motionless after the drop and death must have been instantaneous.

CRUMBS FROM COLUMBUS.

DOINGS OF DEATH AND CRIMINAL CIRCUMSTANCES.

National Associated Press to the Star.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 31.—Detective Thiel, of Columbus, arrested Fred Lane yesterday for misplacing a switch on the Marietta & Cincinnati Railroad some time since. Lane was bound over in the sum of $1,000.

Isaac Anderson, steward of the Central Ohio Insane Asylum, fell dead last evening at 5 o'clock. He was from Delaware County, and well known throughout the State. Anderson was in the city doing business at half past 3 o'clock.

W. A. McCoy, one of the pioneers of this city, and one of the wealthiest citizens, died yesterday after a brief illness.

The trial of Charles Scott, who was arrested in Pittsburgh last spring for the robbery of the rooms of the Speaker of the House, James E. Neal, and the daughter of Alex. Sands, of Cincinnati, is in progress in the Court of Common Pleas.

J. S. Van Alstine, General Southern Agent for the Pennsylvania Road and Star Union Line, with headquarters at Louisville, Ky., died at 10 o'clock last night at the Neil House of congestion of the lungs and heart.

Yellow Fever.

THIS MORNING AT MEMPHIS.

National Associated Press to the Star.
MEMPHIS, Oct. 31.—The weather last night was quite cool, the thermometer ranging as low as 64 in every hand is seen evidence of a brisk fall trade. Business men and assistants arrive every hour, but families are in most cases remaining away a little longer. No new cases to-day, up to this hour, heard from, and reports even should cases occur now, will be less prompt.

A Jolly Resignation.

National Associated Press to the Star.

QUEBEC, OCT. 31.—Hon. Mr. Joly waited on the Lieutenant Governor yesterday and asked for a dissolution of the House and an appeal to the people. The Lieutenant Governor asked time for its consideration and late in the day sent for Premier Joly and told him that he could not comply with his request. Mr. Joly then tendered his resignation.

CONSTABLE LACY.

Dangerously Wounded While Serving a Writ.

Yesterday afternoon Constable Walter J. Lacy, of this city, while attempting to serve a writ of ejectment upon Wm. Wm. Parvin, of Oakley, about two miles this side of Madisonville, was shot with a gun in the hands of Parvin, producing ugly wounds in his right elbow and right knee, which will cause the loss of both these limbs. The trouble which led to this tragedy leads back for several years.

Mr. James Gilmore, the well-known banker, leased a tract of twenty acres of land at the west end of the town of Oakley to Joseph T. Wilson, and Parson bought the lease of Wilson. Parvin, in time, leased out seventeen acres, and built a house on the remaining tract, but became embarrassed when property decreased in value. A suit was afterward brought by Gilmore to obtain back rents, and last May another suit was brought before Squire Wright to eject him from the premises. The suits were settled by Parvin, but last Monday the old writ of ejectment was reissued by Squire Wright, Parvin having refused to pay the rent because Gilmore had prohibited Parvin's tenants from paying him. Constable Lacy visited Parvin on Tuesday last, and gave him until Wednesday afternoon to vacate the premises. Parvin refused to comply, and on the return of Lacy yesterday afternoon, provided himself with a rifle and threatened to kill whoever touched his furniture. Lacy asked him to sit down and talk the matter over, but he refused, and raised the gun as if to fire.

Lacy watched his opportunity and sprang at Parvin to get the gun from him. A scuffle ensued and the gun either went off accidentally or Parvin fired it. The ball entered Lacy's right arm, just below the elbow, completely shattering the bone. The ball then passed through the arm and entered the right leg about midway between the knee and thigh and came out near the knee on the under side, fracturing this bone also.

As soon as the occurrence took place Parvin and W. M. McGary and Mr. Wright, who accompanied Lacy, did what they could to relieve Lacy's sufferings. Physicians were called and after taking several splinters from the arm the wounds were carefully bandaged and Lacy taken to his home, No. 233 Barr street, where he has since rested very uneasy. Parvin surrendered himself up to Squire Classon, of Madisonville and was released on $1,000 bail to await the result of Lacy's injuries.

Squire Wright called at Lacy's home this morning and found him a little better. Lacy wanted to know what the newspapers had to say about the affair. The Squire told him he had not read the papers.

Dr. Brown, of Freeman avenue, dressed the wounds this morning, and expressed grave fears that the leg would have to be amputated. Lacy's wounds will probably prove fatal.

Squires Reilly and Evitt visited Mr. Lacy about noon and found him still in a critical condition. Dr. Brown, who is in attendance, says that if Lacy's wounds do not get worse the leg and arm will not have to be amputated.

The two ex-Squires also had a talk with Mr. W. M. McGary, who gave them the following particulars of the affair:

McGary said that Lacy was sitting on the chair, when Parvin came down the stairway with a rifle, which he cocked and pointed straight at Lacy.

The latter, when he saw this jumped to throw up the bore of the rifle. He did not touch the weapon, however, and then was shot by Parvin. Parvin said that he was acting under advice of his counsel and he was bound to protect his property. Lacy did not pull or reach for his revolver.

CITY COMMISSIONERS.

Another Application for a Street Railroad.

Henry McGlone, contractor, asked for permission to use the city roller on Second avenue, from Center street to Charles street. Referred to the Engineer.

W. H. Morgan requested the Board to compel the proprietors of the Price's Hill Inclined Plane to replace the steps on the south side of said plane, removed by said proprietors, July 19, 1878. Referred to the Commissioner of the District.

Mr. I. J. Miller made application to construct and operate a street railroad as follows:

Commencing at north gate of Wesleyan Cemetery and Colerain avenue; thence, by double track on Colerain avenue, crossing Millcreek by the bridge, to Central avenue, continuing by double track on Central avenue to Freeman avenue; thence, by double track, to York street; thence, by the present track on York, to Linn street; thence on York, to Central avenue; thence, on Central avenue, to Liberty; thence, on Liberty to Elm by double track; thence south on Elm street by double track to Twelfth street, east on Twelfth to Vine, east on Twelfth to Walnut by single track, thence south on Walnut to Court, thence south on present track to south side of Fifth street, thence west to Vine street, north on Vine by track of Route No. 9 to the north track on Twelfth street, thence to Elm street, thence north to Liberty street, thence to John street, thence north on John to Findlay street, thence to Freeman avenue, thence on Freeman avenue to Central avenue, thence on Central avenue to Colerain avenue, as aforesaid, to the place of beginning.

The application was referred to the Committee on Railroads.

The revised rules and regulations for the government of the Water-works Department, reported by the Water-works Committee, were approved by the Board.

Sons of Temperance.

Yesterday afternoon the Grand Lodge elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

Grand Worthy Patriarch—Z. Getchel, of Cincinnati.

Grand Worthy Associate—Mrs. S. M. Beale, of Millersburg.

Grand Treasurer—Rev. T. J. Melish, of Millersburg.

Grand Conductor—H. A. Pease, Van Wert.

Grand Chaplain—Rev. M. Dustin, D.D., of Grand Sentinel—Miss Ettie A. Wintermute.

Trustees—E. J. Morris, Mrs. H. N. Bishop, Z. Getchel, J. P. Wintermute and T. J. Melish.

After the installation of the officers, Williamsburg, Noble County, was chosen as the place of holding the next meeting, and the Grand Division adjourned.

Hawkins' Hash Found to Contain Arsenic.

Professor Roeder, of the Ohio Medical College, has analyzed the piece of meat which Nathan Hawkins, an old farmer of Clermont County, refused to eat, believing it to be poisoned, and has found that it was well sprinkled with arsenic. Mr. Hawkins believes that his wife poisoned the meat for the purpose of disposing of him.
